

Vision Super Saver income protection

What is income protection cover?

Income protection cover helps to replace your lost income if you can't work due to temporary illness or disability. When you join Vision Super, if you meet the eligibility criteria below, you have default cover. This provides up to 75% of your annual salary (up to a salary of $128,000 pa) in monthly payments, after a 60-day waiting period, for up to two years. Depending on your salary, and the number of units of income protection cover that you hold, you may be able to get income protection cover for up to 85% of your annual salary (excluding SG contributions). However, any income protection cover which exceeds 75% of your annual salary, but is less than 85% of your annual salary (ie up to a maximum of 10% of your annual salary), will be paid into your superannuation account.

- Default waiting period is 60 days. You can apply to change your waiting period to 30 days
- Benefits are paid monthly, after your chosen waiting period. The default benefit payment period is up to two years. You can apply to change your benefit payment period to age 65
- If you have to return to work in a reduced capacity you may receive partial disability benefits, and rehabilitation expenses may be covered by the Insurer, to help you return to work.

Eligibility

Generally, you will gain automatic income protection cover when you join Vision Super Saver through part or full time (ie non-casual) employment with a participating employer. However, you must (amongst other things) be a non-casual employee between 15 and 65 years of age with a salary over $7,999 pa (not including super, before tax) to be eligible for cover. Automatic cover is subject to the terms and conditions of the income protection insurance policy, between the Insurer and the Trustee.

How much cover do I have?

Cover is provided in units. Each unit of cover provides a gross monthly benefit of $500. The table to the right shows the amount of cover available for your level of annual salary (excluding super).

Example: Tom has an annual pre-tax salary of $50,000 (excluding super, before tax), which means he has 7 units of cover. If he becomes eligible to make a claim, this would give him a monthly benefit of $3,125 in hand. This would equal a yearly total benefit of $37,500.*

*Income protection cover is subject to eligibility criteria and is available for annual salary levels up to a maximum of $480,000 (excluding super pre-tax), with a maximum benefit of $30,000 a month (ie 75% of $480,000). Any income protection cover which exceeds 75% of your annual salary, but is less than 85% of your annual salary (ie up to a maximum of 10% of your annual salary), will be paid into your superannuation account.

Insurance checklist

Have you had a salary increase? It's important that you let us know if your salary changes, because your cover is based on a percentage of your salary. You must inform us of a salary increase within two months of receiving the increase or when you were first aware of the increase. To do so you will need to provide us with a letter from your payroll department confirming your new salary and the effective date of the increase, and a completed Insurance application/variation form (available on our website). If more than two months has lapsed since your salary increase, or you require more than three units, you will also need to complete a Personal statement which is also available on our website. Medical evidence may be required.	Is your annual salary over $128,000 pa? Automatic insurance cover is capped at 16 units (annual salary of $128,000 excluding super). If your annual salary is above $128,000, you will need to provide us with a completed Insurance application/variation form and a Personal Statement to apply for IP cover that is equal to 75% or 85% of your annual salary. Medical evidence may be required. Please note: If you increase your cover to 85% of your annual salary, 10% (of the 85%) will be paid into your super.	Do you have other income protection insurance? In the event of a claim you may not be able to receive benefits from more than one insurance policy. If you have existing insurance cover outside of the insurance cover that you have with Vision Super, we invite you to compare them and decide which cover you want to keep. If you would like to transfer your other insurance cover to us, please give us a call and we will provide you with the necessary information.

Customise your insurance cover

In addition to your default cover, you can choose to:

- 1 Reduce your waiting period: Assessment of your claim can take 30 days or more in addition to your benefit waiting period. With a default waiting period of 60 days, you may have to wait over 90 days for your income protection benefit payout (complex claims can take longer to assess).
- 2 Change your payment period from two years to age 65: The default payment period is two years. You can extend this to go to age 65.
- 3 Increase your cover: You can apply to increase your cover to (a maximum of) 85% of your annual salary or $30,000 per month, whichever is lesser.*

To make any changes to your insurance cover you will need to provide us with a completed Insurance application/variation form, a Personal statement and medical evidence (if applicable). Please note that changes to your insurance cover may result in a higher premium.

*Income protection cover is subject to eligibility criteria and is available for annual salary levels up to a maximum of $480,000 (excluding super, pre-tax), with a maximum benefit of $30,000 a month (i.e. 75% of $480,000).

Key Life Events (also known as Qualifying events)

You can apply to decrease your waiting period to 30 days, or you can increase your cover by up to 25% of your existing insured sum (subject to the maximum monthly benefit) when you:

- Get married
- Get divorced
- Adopt a child
- Become a parent to a child
- Lose your spouse
- Take out a mortgage to purchase your primary residence (excludes re-financing or purchasing an investment property)
- First become eligible for a Centrelink carer's allowance
- Have a child who has their first day at primary or secondary school.

To apply for additional cover following a Key Life Event, you will need to submit a completed Insurance application/variation for Key Life Event form, provide evidence of the Key Life Event, and satisfactorily complete the 'short form' underwriting questions within 60 days of the Key Life Event occurring. Please note that, depending on your responses to the 'short form' underwriting questions, you may need to complete a Personal Statement and provide medical evidence. Should your cover be increased as a result of a Key Life Event, your premium will be recalculated to reflect the increase in cover.

Interim accident cover

Where you have applied for additional cover, you will be provided with interim accident cover of the amount you have applied for, up to a maximum of $15,000 per month, until your application has been assessed.

Income protection FAQs

Why should I consider reducing my waiting period?

Automatic cover has a default 60-day waiting period. No benefit is payable for or during the waiting period, and you will need to use employment leave and/or savings during the waiting period. Reducing your waiting period may result in you receiving your benefit sooner, which may reduce the strain on your personal resources.

I'm moving to a new employer, can I still keep my cover?

If you change your employer you may be able to keep your insurance benefits with us, as your income protection cover doesn't necessarily cease when you change employers (provided that you satisfy the terms and conditions contained within the relevant insurance policy).

How do I make a claim?

Contact us and we will send you the required information. Alternatively, you may want your employer or legal representative to make enquiries on your behalf.

What is the maximum income protection benefit?

Income protection cover is available for salary levels up to $480,000 (excluding super, pre-tax), with a maximum benefit of $30,000 a month (ie 75% of $480,000).

Income protection to age 65 (weekly rates per $500 per month)

The default income protection payment period is two years and the default waiting period is 60 days. You can apply to extend the benefit payment period to age 65 rather than just a two year period, and/or reduce your waiting period to 30 days. Please note that your application will be subject to the Insurer's approval, and you may need to provide the Insurer with medical evidence. The cost of cover up to age 65 is shown in the table below.
